Welcome to the land of Saints and Seers

“Atithi Devo Bhava”
meaning “Guests are like God”

India is a great country with a haven of tourism delights like wealth of sights, cultural exuberance, and diversity of terrain. A place of wonder, with creative burst of cultures, races, and religions, over a billion people, 15 official languages, and gifted nature's beauty. Its diversity is out of all bounds. Indians live with variety and thrive on diversity. From mud hut to mansion, there is variety.

Stretching from the frozen summits of the Himalayas to the tropical greenery of Kerala, India's expansive borders encompass an incomparable range of landscapes, cultures and people. In every aspect, India is on massive exaggerated scale which can be compared to the superlative Himalayan Mountains. It is set apart from the rest of Asia by the supreme continental wall of the Himalayas. It touches the three large water bodies. This triangular peninsula defined by the Bay of Bengal to the east, the Arabian sea to the west, and the India Ocean to the south has in its store the wealth of natural resources.

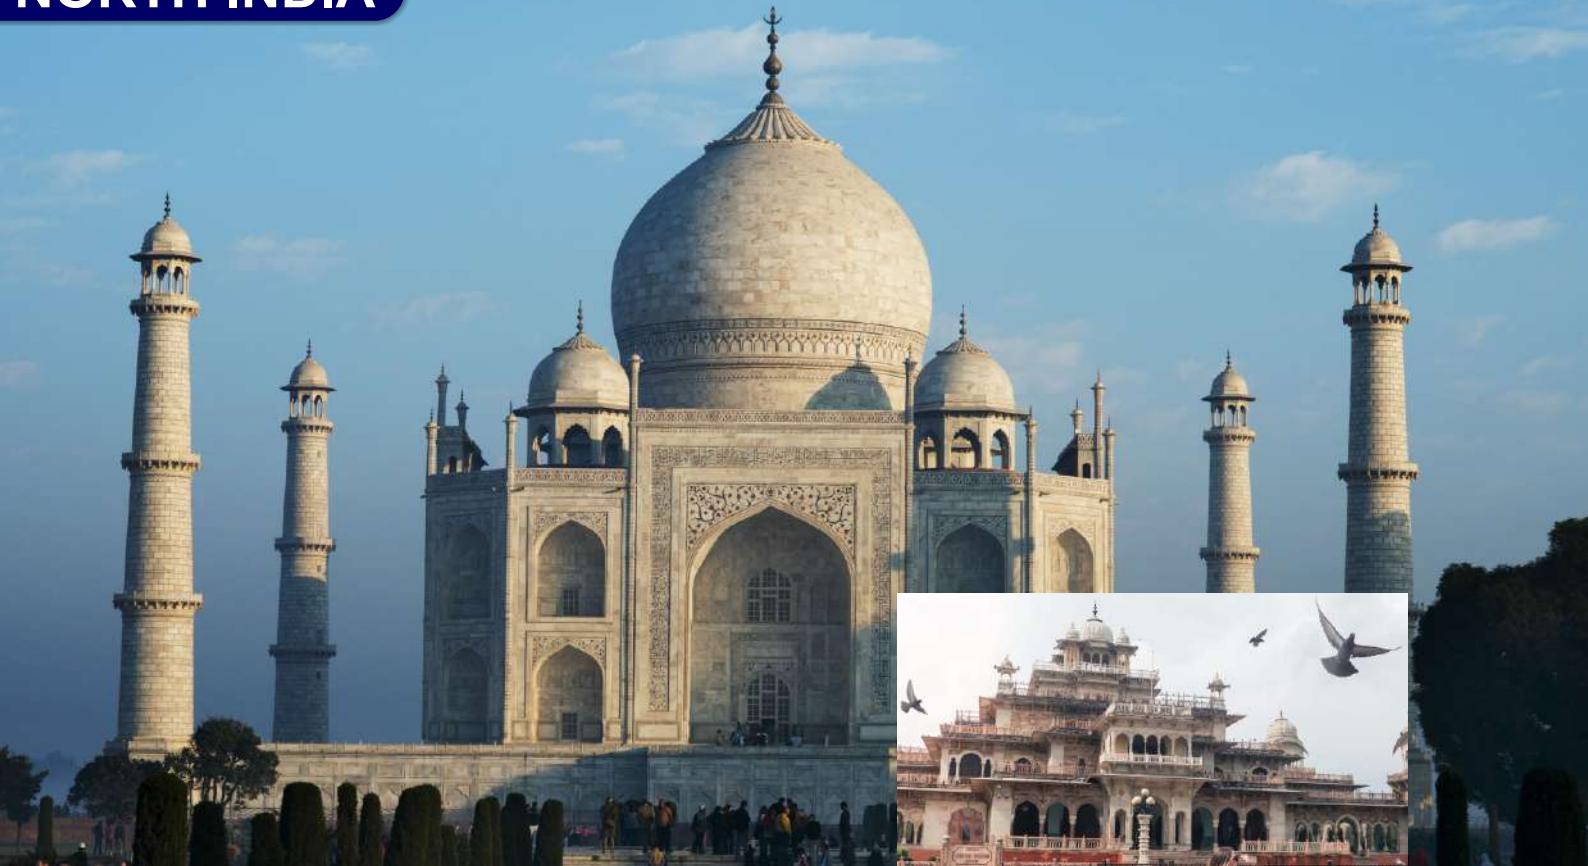

India as an explorer paradise, you could spend a lifetime discovering the relics left behind from ancient empires and trekking its dramatic landscapes. From its tiger-filled National Parks to the frozen Himalayan deserts, India's veritable bounty of breath-taking scenery will sure to leave you awe-struck. In India, you can discover 36 UNESCO-listed sights ranging from creaking mountain railways and ancient fortresses to mangrove forests and temples overflowing with multi-armed deities.

The abundance of vast mountain ranges, exciting national parks, enchanting rivers, roaring seas, silent valleys, thrilling waterfalls, historical monuments, holy temples, and diverse tribal culture added with the hospitality of its people, India offers innumerable opportunities for tourism.

The cuisine in India is popular worldwide and is as varied as the country's culture, dubbed the land of spices, strong flavours, aromatic curries and a range of meats and vegetables, the dishes change region to region. For obvious reasons, coastal towns boast delicious fish curries while mainland areas are well known for their veggie curries.

NORTH INDIA

INTRODUCTION

The places in this northern region can astound you by their cultural extravaganza, architectural marvels and local cuisine, all so different from each other yet sharing the same region. In terms of architectural wonders, North India takes pride in being home to one of the wonders of the world - The Taj Mahal in Agra. Also, the Hawa Mahal in Jaipur and City Palace in Udaipur encapsulates the grandeur and royalty that the region enjoyed. For natural wonders and trekking trails, the states of Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Jammu & Kashmir are famous. Not to miss, the snow-clad mountains of Kashmir, the world's highest motorable pass and highest salt water lake in Ladakh.

DELHI the bustling capital of India successfully brings together in its fold- the old and new presenting a unique melting-pot that fascinates all. Delhi is a complete package from the bustling lanes of Chandni Chowk (Old Delhi) to the serene and tranquil abode of Gurudwara Bangla Sahib. It has served as a major strategic and cultural hub of the country and an exhibition centre of the history of India.

AGRA is the home of the World famous Taj Mahal, Agra provides avid glimpses of Mughal architecture. It is like taking a walk through India's Mughal period history. Agra's attractions also include the Red Fort, built by Emperor Akbar on the banks of the River Yamuna. Itmad-ud-Daulah, a mausoleum built for Empress Noor Jahan's father and last but not the least Fatehpur Sikri, magnificent fortified ancient city.

JAIPUR is dotted with majestic buildings, tales of heroic battles, resplendent forts and palaces, and multi-faceted characters, Jaipur has long been one of the shiniest cultural jewels in the history of the India. With the old city surrounded by walls and gates decorated with drawings on the backdrop of a beautiful pink hue, Jaipur, the pink city successfully manages to retain its old world charm.

GOLDEN TRIANGLE EXTENSIONS

KHAJURAHO, The most brilliant specimens of Indian architecture, The erotic sculptures adorning the temples of Khajuraho is unique and in few words, is simply poetry carved on stone. The fascinating brilliance of the Khajuraho Group of Temples is the reason it is named among the UNESCO World Heritage sites in India.

GWALIOR, It's known for its palaces and temples, including the Sas Bahu Ka Mandir intricately carved Hindu temple. Ancient Gwalior Fort occupies a sandstone plateau overlooking the city and is accessed via a winding road lined with sacred Jain statues. Within the fort's high walls is the 15th-century Gujar Mahal Palace, now an archaeological museum.

VARANASI, Considered as the holiest of Hindu cities, it is as old as civilization and the very town breathes divine bliss. Known as the city where life comes to a full circle, as it is witness to Indian rituals of birth to death. Varanasi is probably one of the most ancient living cities in India.

RISHIKESH, It has spectacular view of jungle-clad hills. Rishikesh has also confluence of River Ganges and Chandrabhaga. CAMPING AND GLAMPING IN NORTH INDIA

Fast catching up the attention of the new generation of discerning travelers, glamping offers outdoor enthusiasts and travelers looking for off the beaten path experiences. India has much to offer happy glampers as luxury tented camps are being set up all over the country - in the desert, in the mountains, and on the farms. Glamping experiences are equally unique, enchanting, peaceful and invigorating in all terrains – deserts, valleys and mountains. A fusion of glamorous and camping, glamping doesn't require you to pitch a tent or set up a camp. Instead, it offers a way for you to experience the outdoors and underrated yet great locales without compromising on comfort and luxury whether it be a Swiss tent, hut, tree house, or a tent.

JAISALMER, RAJASTHAN, Offers numerous opportunities to go glamping in the desert. The majority of tented camps are located close to the Sam Sand Dunes, where people flock to go on a camel ride into the sunset. It is a must have experience if you wish to experience Jaisalmer like never before.

LEH, LADAKH, High altitude Ladakh is a spectacular glamping destination. Double Humped Camp, in the Nubra Valley around four hours from Leh, is a new alpine desert camp that offers camel safaris.

RANTHAMBORE, RAJASTHAN, Offers plenty of outstanding opportunities for glamping. The most opulent of these is The Oberoi Vanyavilas. There are 25 tents with polished hardwood floors, four-poster beds, and freestanding bathtubs.

PALI, RAJASTHAN, Between Jodhpur and Udaipur, has a number of options for rural glamping that will appeal to wildlife enthusiasts. Chhatra Sagar has 11 extraordinary luxury tents overlooking a dam and two (with complete privacy and panoramic views) on the hill.

PUSHKAR, RAJASTHAN, Orchard Tents & Tranquility gets its name from the orchards on the property. There are 11 and spacious luxury tents with air-conditioning, separate bedrooms, living and dressing areas, and porches.

BUNDI, RAJASTHAN, If you are a nature lover, and in particular a bird watcher, you'll be delighted by Bundi in Rajasthan, it has 15 air-conditioned luxury tents on a living farm owned by Maharaja Rajendra Singhji of Dugari. The tents all overlook a lake and are surrounded by landscaped garden and mountains.

MASHOBRA, HIMACHAL PRADESH, It has always been an ideal place for adventure junkies, glamping just happened to be an icing on the cake. Camps in Mashobra have been refurbished to guarantee most glamorous adventure with cozy beds, rustic interiors and charming ambience.

SARCHU, HIMACHAL PRADESH, En-route Manali Leh Highway, Sarchu is a place just perfect for overnight glamping. This area is protected by army camps and nurtured by the waters of Tsarap Chu River. Luxury tents and camps in Sarchu, are among the most luxurious stays amidst the mountains.

SANGLA, HIMACHAL PRADESH, The gorgeous valley is the last green frontier before you drive into the barren mountains of Lahaul and Spiti. The camping on the Himalayan slopes, with lush forests of pine and cedar for company, is definitely worth a good long break.

EXOTIC HIMALAYAS JOURNEYS

The Indian Himalayan Region dips and dives in and out of the Lesser, Greater, Tethys and Siwalik Ranges with the states of Jammu & Kashmir, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Sikkim, Arunachal Pradesh, Assam and West Bengal claiming pieces of pie. The accessible trekking in Ladakh, the rhinos of Assam, the British Raj heritage town of Shimla, the remote mountain communities scattered through these magnificent mountains. This is, unquestionably, a great range. It contributes about 16.2% of India's total geographical area, and most of the area is covered by snow-clad peaks, glaciers of higher Himalaya, dense forest cover of mid-Himalaya.

LEH, LADAKH, It is a mountainous region and the coldest desert in the world. In Ladakh the nature has rendered a magical, unbelievable and fantastic landscape which is extremely breathtaking. The Ladakh is known for its extreme deserts, blue waters, freezing winds, glaciers and sand dunes. Ladakh is a region of India which is totally isolated from the modern world. The culture of Ladakh is fascinating, intoxicating and captivating which can give us a brief idea about the people of the place, their lifestyle and their beliefs.

SRINAGAR, J&K, Famously known as 'Heaven on Earth', Srinagar is every bit the epitome of paradise on earth. Srinagar, the capital of Jammu and Kashmir, lies on the banks of the Jhelum river, and has a cool, pleasant climate all year round. Once you visit Srinagar, the first thing you do is close your eyes and breathe in lungfuls of the clean, fresh mountain air.

GULMARG, J&K, Known for its scenic beauty, Gulmarg is surrounded by snow covered mountains, lush green meadows, deep ravines, evergreen forested hills and valleys. Gulmarg has also been a popular destination for shooting of various Bollywood films. The cable car here is also one of the prime attractions here and is the 2nd highest cable car in the world.

PAHALGAM, J&K, With untouched and gorgeous natural beauty, Pahalgam is a feast to the eyes and senses. Submerged in lush greenery and alluring Himalayan ranges, it calls for some moments of serene at nature's own home. You will be wonderstruck by the sumptuousness of Pahalgam the moment you arrive at this pristine land.

SHIMLA, HIMACHAL PRADESH, A wonderful abode in the Himalayas, the city of Shimla is surrounded by scenic pine-covered hills and snow-capped peaks. This erstwhile summer capital of the British, still retains its colonial-era charm through its spectacular historical churches and institutes, like Christ Church, Indian Institute of Advanced Study and many more.

MANALI, HIMACHAL PRADESH, Nestled in between the snow-capped slopes of the Pir Panjal and the Dhauladhar ranges, With jaw-dropping views, lush green forests, sprawling meadows carpeted with flowers, gushing blue streams, a perpetual fairy-tale like mist lingering in the air, Old Manali is a serene, tranquil place, whose lingering silence is broken only by the twittering of the birds and the sound of the roaring waters of the Kullu river.

DHARAMSHALA, HIMACHAL PRADESH, Popularly known as the Scotland of India, The town is divided into two areas - the lower Dharamshala that houses the government buildings and the upper Dharamshala or the McLeodganj. The Tibetan culture that pervades the entire place is the strongest factor in pulling the visitors. The residence of Dalai Lama, the Buddhist head, has made it a magnet for Buddhist devotees who call it 'The Little Lhasa of India'.

KEYLONG, HIMACHAL PRADESH, Sitting pretty at an altitude of 3,080 m, is the village of Keylong. There are plenty of monasteries around the hill station that warrant a visit. In addition to the monasteries, other attractions in the region include Gemur, which is famous for Buddhism-inspired arts and crafts, the ancient fort at Gondla, RISHIKESH, UTTARAKHAND, Situated along the convergence of Ganga and Chandrabhaga, Rishikesh on the foothills of Himalayas is the hub of many ancient temples, yoga ashrams and adventure sports. Over the years, has become extremely popular as the top spiritual destination in the world. It also serves as the gateway to many Himalayan treks and is used as a popular camping site.

HEMKUND, UTTARAKHAND, Nestled amid the Himalayan Ranges, literally meaning 'Lake of Snow', this highest Gurudwara in the world is perched at an altitude of 4329 m above the sea level and lies in the backdrop of snow - clad mountains. The shrine is also known as Gurudwara Shri Hemkunt Sahib and can be reached by trekking through numerous waterfalls, thick forest and captivating views of the Himalayas.

STEPS ON BUDDHA'S PATH

India is blessed with the fact that Lord Buddha walked on its land, preached to its people and attained Mahanirvana on its humble ground. There are in fact so many destinations in India that have Buddhist significance and amongst them Bodhgaya (Where Buddha attained enlightenment), Sarnath (Where Buddha held his first public sermon) and Kushinagar (Where Buddha attained Mahanirvana) hold great importance for the devotees. The mighty monasteries, the lofty stupas and the ever-so melodic chants of Mantras make one forget about their anxieties and stress, trials and tribulations, and one is simply lost in the world of divinity that heals just about everything.

VARANASI, After attaining Nirvana, Buddha came to Varanasi in search of his five disciples. One of the oldest living cities of the world, Varanasi is held in high esteem by the Hindu devotees from all over. Varanasi lies on the banks of the holy river Ganga SARNATH, Lord Buddha had visited Sarnath looking for his five companions who abandoned him in Rajgir while they deviated from the viewpoint of Lord Buddha on self-mortification. Several Buddhist structures were raised at Sarnath between the 3rd century BC and 11th century AD.

BODHGAYA, A place where Lord Buddha left his foot steps nearly 2500 years ago while travelling in the quest of enlightenment, situated by the river Phalgu, Bodhgaya is one of the most important and sacred Buddhist pilgrimage center in the world.

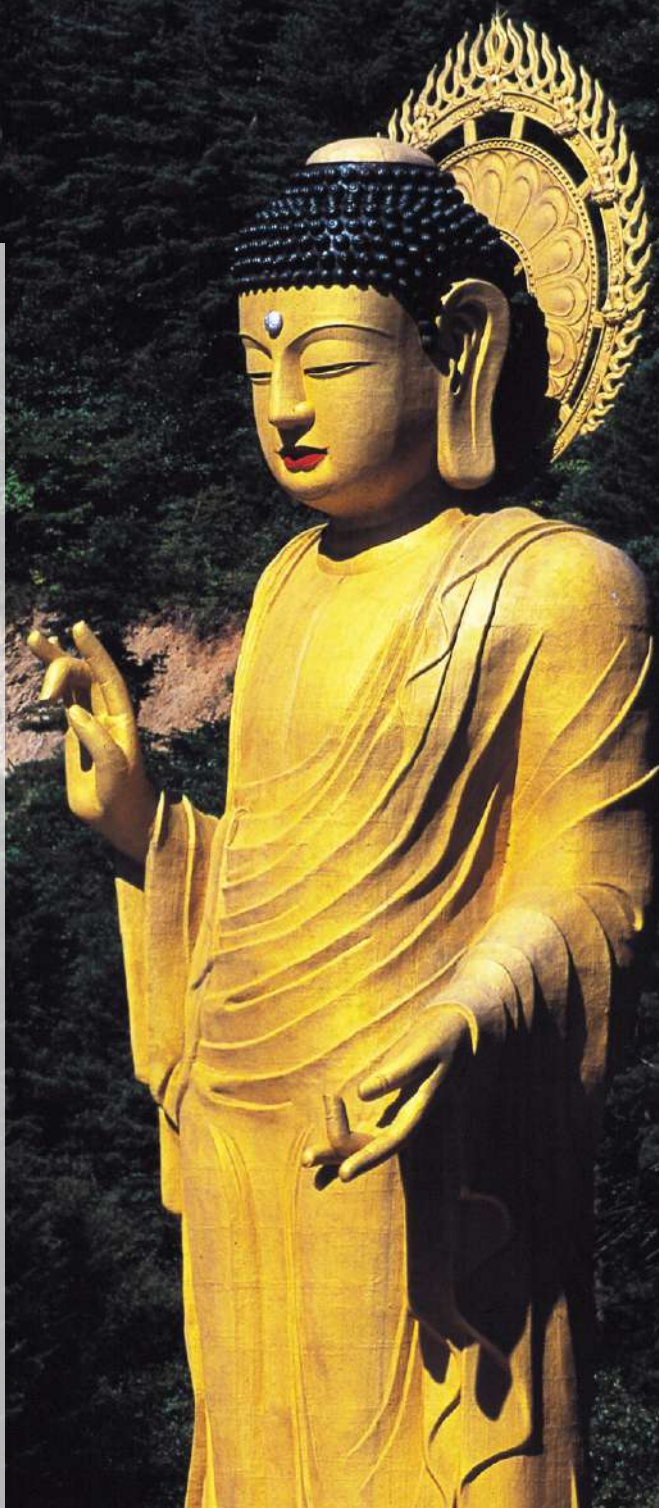

RAJGIR, Rajgir is town where the air that surrounds its beautiful sceneries carries hints of spirituality and vibrant hues of history with links with both Buddhism and Jainism.

NALANDA, The most popular Mahavihara of the ancient times, a significant Buddhist seat of academic excellence and a modest pilgrim center, all wrapped in a wisp of spirituality, Nalanda continues to be an equally enriching location in the present.

KUSHINAGAR, The place where Lord Buddha passed away at this place near the Hiranyavati River and was cremated at the Ramabhar stupa. Kushinagar also expresses the common thread of all sects of Buddhism through its magnificent Viharas, Chaityas, temples and Tibetan monasteries.

SEVEN SISTERS OF INDIA

The Seven Sisters of India are Meghalaya, Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Tripura, Assam, Manipur, and Mizoram. These states have been attracting young travelers and explorers from all over the world with different tribal and ethnic groups, religions, festivals, and fabulous landscapes. These hilly states in the lap of Himalayas are some of the most spectacular destinations.

ARUNACHAL PRADESH, Also known as "The Land of Rising Sun", the largest state of north-eastern India. It is also home to the famous Tawang monastery, India's largest and the world's second largest Buddhist monastery. Arunachal Pradesh is the perfect state for you if you wish to explore the tribal culture and the simplicity of their exquisite beauty.

ASSAM, A treasure trove of natural beauty and diverse history, is one of the least explored regions in the country, lending it an immaculate, untouched aura that is sure to allure you. A land of wild forests, mighty rivers, and acres and acres of tea plantations, Assam, located in North East India, has a breathtaking landscape and is known to be one of the top biodiversity hotspots in the entire world.

MEGHALAYA, Meaning 'The Abode of the Clouds', is the wettest region in the world. Well known for Cherrapunji, the place which receives one of the maximum rainfall in the world, Meghalaya can mesmerise you with its hills, valleys, lakes, caves and waterfalls which when combined with the beautiful clouds, give it a very serene, beautiful look.

MANIPUR, Literally meaning the 'Jeweled Land', The oldest polo ground in the world is the Imphal Polo Ground in Manipur State. Manipur is also famous for hosting the world's only floating national park and the Battle of Imphal, which stopped the Japanese invasion into northern India in its infancy.

MIZORAM, Means 'The Land of the hill People' known for its hills, rivers, lakes and valleys, Mizoram's climatic condition is ideal for the cultivation of flowers. Mizoram is now one of the biggest producers and exporters of anthurium.

NAGALAND, 'Land of Festivals', is as much about scenic beauty as it is about carefully preserved history and tradition. As all the tribes have their festivals and ceremonies, Nagaland is always ready to welcome a festival with great joy, and gaiety and food remain as much a part of the celebration as the dances and songs.

TRIPURA, This land-locked state nestled at the foot of the Himalayan mountains has a long historical legacy behind it; Tripura was once home to the famous Manikya tribe, which resulted in the conception of a plethora of varied archaeological monuments and structures in the state.

MAHABAAHU CRUISE

The Mahabaahu allows you to truly appreciate the stunning landscapes, exotic wildlife and friendly people found along the mighty Brahmaputra River, with a variety of guided excursions offered each day. The sun deck, with its comfortable loungers, also makes a great place to sit back as you take in the sights and sounds of the river. Tastefully decorated throughout, the boat has a laid-back and welcoming atmosphere.

In the evenings, guests can enjoy local tribal dance performances and listen to guest lectures, enabling them to truly immerse themselves in the local culture and learn more about this colourful region.

Offering an excellent range of facilities, comfortable and spacious cabins and excursions that will leave you with a profound appreciation of the region, the Mahabaahu is an excellent choice for a cruise along the Brahmaputra River with its stunning mountain scenery and dazzling number of wildlife species to spot.

Mahabaahu provides an unshowy but very comfortable base from which to view all this action. Its large-windowed cabins -- several of which have balconies -- allow good views of the riverbanks (though for closer attention to the animals, guests board one of two well-cushioned, open-topped tender/expedition boats).

Though not a 'luxury boat' by today's Western standards, Mahabaahu is well presented with crisp linen cloths and napkins in the dining room, silk hangings and cushions on the beds, and comfortable seating in the main Soma Lounge, up on the sun deck, and around the pool.

The crew is friendly and attentive, and the itinerary fascinating and a good introduction to the subcontinent for those wary of the crowds and chaos along the banks of India's most famous river, the Ganges.

MV Mahabaahu runs seven-night sailings along the Brahmaputra, either upstream, from Guwahati to Jorhat, or downstream in the other direction.

BACKWATER CRUISE

The scenic backwaters of Kerala comprise serene stretches of lakes, canals and lagoons located parallel to the coast of the Arabian Sea. The backwater regions of Kerala are one of the most popular tourist destinations in the world. The tranquil backwater cruises are a once in a lifetime experience. Alappuzha, known as the 'Venice of the East', is especially popular for its houseboat cruises where you can soak in nature at its finest form.

Houseboats in Kerala are made up of eco-friendly materials and are available on hire for day cruise or for a night stay. Most of the boats are made of thatched roofs made of coconut leaves. They are outfitted with modern amenities and provide facilities of a comfortable hotel.

Kerala house boats have fully furnished single double triple and five bedrooms with sundeck, private balcony with comfortable chairs, kitchen and toilet. In addition there is also separate rest room with television and a crew comprising two oarsmen and a cook. It takes great skill and meticulousness to construct and navigate these giant Houseboats by tying huge planks of Anjili tree and the staff has been trained properly.

Kerala Backwaters are a network of interconnected canals, rivers, lakes and inlets, a labyrinthine system formed by more than 900 km of waterways. In the midst of this landscape there are a number of towns and cities, which serve as the starting and end points of backwater cruises. The backwaters have a unique ecosystem -- freshwater from the rivers meets the seawater from the Arabian Sea.

In certain areas, such as the Vembanad Kayal, where a barrage has been built near Kumarakom, salt water from the sea is prevented from entering the deep inside, keeping the fresh water intact. Many unique species of aquatic life including crabs, frogs and mudskippers, water birds such as terns, kingfishers, darters and cormorants, and animals such as otters and turtles live in and alongside the backwaters. Palm trees, pandanus shrubs, various leafy plants and bushes grow alongside the backwaters, providing a green hue to the surrounding landscape.

AYURVEDA

Ayurveda is considered by many scholars to be the oldest healing science. Ayurveda means "The Science of Life." Ayurvedic knowledge originated in India more than 5,000 years ago and is often called the "Mother of All Healing." It stems from the ancient Vedic culture and was taught for many thousands of years in an oral tradition from accomplished masters to their disciples. The principles of many of the natural healing systems now familiar in the West have their roots in Ayurveda, including Homeopathy and Polarity Therapy.

Ayurveda places great emphasis on prevention and encourages the maintenance of health through close attention to balance in one's life, right thinking, diet, lifestyle and the use of herbs. Knowledge of Ayurveda enables one to understand how to create this balance of body, mind and consciousness according to one's own individual constitution and how to make lifestyle changes to bring about and maintain this balance.

YOGA & MEDITATION

Yoga is an ancient physical, mental and spiritual discipline that involves a combination of processes to attain a holistic sense of well-being. The central aim remains to achieve a heightened sense of peace and wholesome happiness about oneself and things around.; meditation is extension of yoga that leads to oneness with one's mind. It is one of the prime five principles under yoga that, with constant practice, brings you to closer to your thoughts and your inner-self. Meditation focuses upon improving self-will, tranquillity within you and helps you achieve clarity of mind like never before.

Yoga is a union with God to live a contented, peaceful and balanced life. Passed down several generations by yogis, rishis and seers, it acts as a way to offer liberation and expansion of human consciousness.

Meditation offers a unique kind of rest to your body that is more rejuvenating than the deepest sleep one ever has had. Basically, you focus upon self-awareness, leading to a deep connect with your inner source of energy.

MEDICAL TOURISM

India has become a main medical tourism hub, combines leisure and relaxation with wellness and healthcare. This phenomenon of people travelling across national borders for medical care has existed for centuries.

Medical Tourism can be defined as when clients go for medical treatment and choose to travel across international countries for medical services such as dental problem, beauty surgery, and different type of surgery and fertility treatment. High quality of medical services and affordable cost of medical treatment in India are the two leading reasons behind the boom in healthcare tourism in the country.

THE DRAGON KINGDOM - BHUTAN

Bhutan is the land of monasteries, art, mountains and culture. This is the land of red rice, chilies being staple food, dancing monks and many other unique traditions. Bhutan takes pride in providing a unique style of vacation, which focus on rejuvenation and minimalist lifestyle. This is the prime destination famous for photogenic landscapes, prime monasteries, majestic festivals, medieval styled local settings, unparalleled shopping experience and so on.

Best Time To Visit Bhutan

Mid of September to May is the best time to visit this region. This is the festival time and you can spot numerous cultural activities, fairs and others during this season. The climate is also mild, allowing you to explore deeper and raw regions.

THIMPHU, World's third highest capital Thimphu is known to be most modernised country present across Bhutan. One of the interesting things to consider about this place is that there aren't any traffic lights present in the city and at certain intersections, you would find policemen standing in their decorated booths in order to control the traffic. You would find a very clear glimpse of what Bhutanese culture is about also traditional arts as well as some architectural structures which would tell you a lot about the history of this country.

PARO, This picturesque region is one of the widest valleys in the kingdom and is covered in fertile rice fields and has a beautiful, crystalline river meandering down the valley. Accentuating the natural beauty are the elegant, traditional-style houses that dot the valley and surrounding hills. One of the distinctive features of Paro town is that it is situated in a flat valley bottom and follows a grid-like pattern.

PUNAKHA, Due to the suitable weather conditions present over here, this place has been known for its extensive rice cultivation. This place is known to be the second oldest Dzong in the whole of Bhutan and is also known as one of the most magnificent structures in the country. This place has been beautifully designed and one can easily spot the architectural brilliance showcased in the construction of Dzong.

BUMTHANG, The religious heartland of the nation and home to some of its oldest Buddhist temples and monasteries. The fertile valleys of Bumthang are covered in fields of buckwheat, rice and potatoes. This serene region is one of the most peaceful places in the kingdom. is the religious heartland of the nation and home to some of its oldest Buddhist temples and monasteries.

TRONGSA, This town is situated on a steep ridge and offers spectacular views of the deep valleys surrounding it. Trongsa Dzong is easily visible from anywhere in town and is always an impressive sight as it is situated atop a steep ridge that drops off into the clouds on its south side. The watchtower of Trongsa has been converted into a museum dedicated to the Wangchuck dynasty and is a good place to learn about the history of the kingdom.

GANGTEY, The valley of Gangtey is one of the most beautiful spots in Bhutan. The surprise of finding such a wide, flat valley without any trees after the hard climb through dense forests is augmented by an impression of vast space, and extremely rare experience in Bhutan where most of the valley's are tightly enclosed.

SRI LANKA - WONDER OF ASIA

Sri Lanka is a land of myth, legend, history and one of the richest cultures. It has 8 UNESCO World Heritage Sites that must be visited as well as religious sites, numerous national parks, verdant tea estates and, of course, beaches. Take a scenic train ride past plantations and hills and try your hand at blackjack and poker at one of the many casinos. Tickle your taste buds with local favourites like rich curries, fragrant polos and the odd-smelling wood apple.

COLOMBO, Is characterized by beaches, Buddhist temples, sprawling gardens, and historical landmarks. Colombo is the capital of Sri Lanka which is a very beautiful place. The city is a mixture of modern life and colonial buildings and ruins of it. Sri Lanka was colonised by Portuguese and Britishers. The architecture here is reflective of its rich heritage. There is a lighthouse where you can climb and enjoy the nature's amazing sight. It has become a worthy destination in its own right and makes an excellent start – or finish – to your Sri Lankan adventures.

SIGIRIYA, Famous for its palace ruins on top of a massive 200 meter high rock surrounded by the remains of an extensive network of gardens, reservoirs and other structures. The rock itself is a lava plug left over from an ancient long extinct volcano. It is also renowned for its ancient paintings (frescoes), which are similar to those found at Ajanta Caves in India. It was used as a rock-shelter mountain monastery from about the 5th century BC, with caves prepared and donated by devotees of the Buddhist Sangha.

KANDY, Has a rich historical background covering the major events of the medieval era and colonial era. Every square inch of this nicely planned town has a piece of Sri Lankan history. Feel the pulse of royalty in some colonial architecture and feel the divine blessings while visiting a large temple where science meets religion and together they try to explain the complexity of life. The town of Kandy added a value to its legacy and never changed its roots for the sake of development. This one virtue makes this town worth a visit.

NUWARA ELIYA, Is Sri Lanka's hill station famed for its tea production. With a multitude of gorgeous attractions ranging from waterfalls and tea plantations to gardens and lakes, Nuwara Eliya is the epitome of scenic beauty. Besides, being the most important site for tea production also happens to be overlooked by the Pidurutalagala. This is the tallest mountain in Sri Lanka. This city enjoys an extremely temperate climate. Indeed this place happens to be the coolest part of Sri Lanka.

GALLE, Is situated in the southwestern tip of Sri Lanka; it is one of the country's integral cities. Galle has a colorful history and beauty that renders many speechless. The city is filled with Dutch-colonial buildings people come from faraway places to see. Galle is filled with art that's rare, the streets are filled with people who are ambitious and hardworking, showcasing their efforts in one the best displays that please the eye immensely.

POLONNARUWA, One of the best planned Archeological relic sites in the country, standing testimony to the discipline and greatness of the Kingdom's first rulers. Its beauty and serenity was captured in the Duran Duran music video Save a Prayer in 1982. The ancient city of Polonnaruwa has been declared a World Heritage site by UNESCO.

ANURADHAPURA, Is one of the ancient cities in Sri Lanka, well known for its ruins depicting early Sri Lankan civilization. It is very famous among Buddhists pilgrims. Anuradhapura was earlier the capital of the Island (in ancient times) and most of the Kings who ruled Sri Lanka resided in this vast city. The city is now named as a world heritage site by UNESCO.

TIBET

Tibet is the forbidden land and the holy land of your innermost desire. Snow mountains and grasslands, scattered herds of yak and nomads on the plateau, spectacular monasteries and unsophisticated smiles, tranquil lake and transparent blue sky, all can be seen on this magic land. The highlights of Tibet will be of a spiritual nature: magnificent monasteries, prayer halls of chanting monks, and remote cliff side meditation retreats.

Best time to go to Tibet

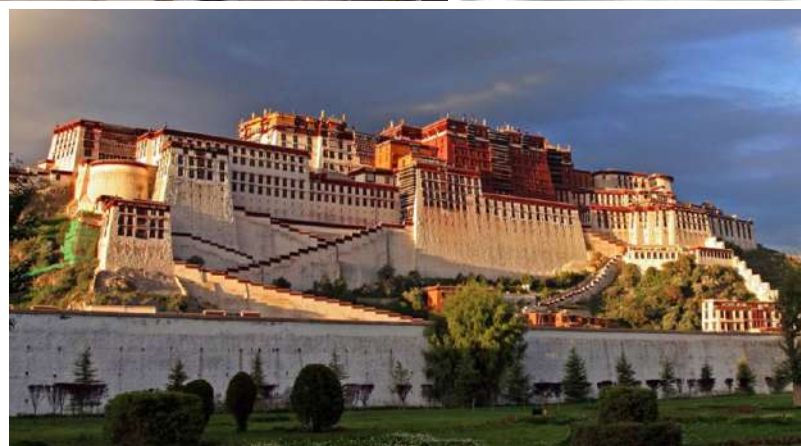

Normally speaking, months from May to October are suggested. Mostly the warmest, greenest and most crowded time is in the summer, a time when festivals tend to be held. It's also rainy season in Tibet, especially July and August, when rain falls mostly at night but when clouds can obscure mountain views. Autumn and spring season are colder but have clearer views and fewer crowds. Winter is definitely cold but offers excellent local atmosphere in and near Lhasa.

How to go to Tibet

Nowadays, getting to Tibet couldn't be easier. And you have a number of ways to combine your travel via either Nepal or mainland Chinese cities. Flying from Kathmandu to Lhasa is the fastest way to reach Tibet. In fact, it is the only international flights available to Tibet. And, Tibet also sees a large number of international tourists coming from mainland Chinese cities like Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou, Chengdu, and Xining, etc.

LHASA, Literally means the Place of the Gods, is hidden deep in the spectacular Himalayan Mountains. It is a treasure trove of brilliant palaces, monasteries and temples. The symbol of Tibet, the dominating red and white Potala Palace is the first sight you will see when you enter the holy city Lhasa. Today Lhasa has become the Must-visit destination for travelers because it is the essence of Tibet, the perfect place to experience the best culture of Tibet.

SHIGATSE, It's capital Shigatse City is the second largest city in Tibet. Shigatse, means "the fertile land" in Tibetan, has played an important role in Tibetan history. It is the granary of Tibet, the second culture center of Tibet. The world's highest mountain, "the third pole of earth" - Mount Everest is dominating in Tingri County of Shigatse Prefecture. Every year, thousands of travelers come from all over the world to Shigatse to challenge the utmost limits of human beings and appreciate the spectacularity of - Mount Everest.

GYANTSE, It strategically lies in the Nyangchu Valley on the trade route, linking the traders between India and Tibet as well as the pilgrims journeying across the Himalayan Plateau in the ancient times. With the good climate and fertile soil, Gyantse area is also rich in natural resource and honored the Granary of Tibet. Nowadays, it is no longer the most developed town and not fast-growing as some other places, but it remains its original charm and manages to leave you a wonderful experience.

NAMTSO, Is the largest salty lake in Tibet. The whole lake covers an area of 1,920 square kilometers. With an altitude of 4,718 meters, it is the highest large-scale lake above sea level in the world. In Tibetan language, Namtso means "Heavenly Lake". It has attracted numerous tourists and pilgrims with its natural beauty and Buddhist holiness.
